

Rebecca Zucker

Partner

Contact:

rebecca@nextsteppartners.com

Education:

- NYU
- Stanford University, Graduate School of Business

Certifications:

- The Coaches Training Institute
- Minds at Work Immunity to Change
- Myers Briggs Type Indicator ®
- Enneagram Individual & Teams
- Leadership Circle Profile
- Leadership Circle Culture Survey
- Hay Group Inventory of Leadership Styles and Organizational Climate Survey
- Team Coaching International's Team Diagnostic ™
- Psychological Safety Assessment

Selected Clients:

5AM Ventures, Clorox, The David and Lucille Packard Foundation, DocuSign, Dropbox, Exabeam, GI Partners, Hall Capital Partners, The James Irvine Foundation, Morrison Foerster, Norwest Venture Partners, Rodan + Fields, Rubrik, Russell Reynolds, Santander USA, Stanford Graduate School of Business, Unity Technologies

Growth requires both vision and action. Rebecca's clients rely on her intelligence, pragmatism, and unwavering professionalism to demystify the process of growth and achieve their goals.

As an expert in executive coaching as well as leadership and career development, Rebecca coaches C-level executives and other senior leaders across the globe. In addition to several venture-backed start-ups, her clients span multiple sectors, including technology, venture capital, private equity, financial services, law, consulting, consumer products, media, healthcare, biotech, education, and philanthropy.

She is a regular contributor to Harvard Business Review and Forbes.com and is frequently quoted in the press on career and leadership issues.

Rebecca graduated as valedictorian from the Leonard N. Stern School of business at NYU and later received her MBA from Stanford. She then worked as an investment banker for Goldman Sachs in New York and held leadership positions at Disney EMEA in Paris and at Robertson Stephens.

She received her coaching training and certification from the Coaches Training Institute and from Minds at Work.

